

resolution. We need to lure Iraqi compliance with a meaningful economic inducement, not merely threaten them with military force. Why does the United States not offer to lift economic sanctions in an orderly and progressive way in exchange for unfettered and comprehensive inspections? Without the carrot of lifting economic sanctions in exchange for removing weapons of mass destruction, the Iraqi government has no incentive to cooperate. Offering to lift economic sanctions in exchange for unfettered inspections will gain the support within Iraq and among our allies.

Before there is any authorization for the use of armed force against Iraq, we must make sure that all peaceful means containing and eliminating Iraq's weapons of mass destruction have been exhausted, including offering positive incentives, and the U.S. should lead this initiative. This positive incentive to get Saddam Hussein to comply has not and is not currently in play. But until we make this overture and change the policy of only lifting economic sanctions after a regime change, we will not have exhausted all peaceful alternatives to force.

We are a Nation united by our Constitution and committed to the rule of law. That commitment is now challenged by an outlaw. We must bring this outlaw to justice but not become outlaws ourselves. And while our attention is focused on a military threat overseas, we are drowning at home economically. I believe we can creatively insist on a peaceful resolution to eliminate Saddam's weapons of mass destruction without an invasion and the actual use of force. Our military might is unquestioned. Our wisdom, our compassion, our commitment to a non-violent means of resolving conflict is not. By that and that alone will move us toward a genuine peace, justice and security for all.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER), member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for the time. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this resolution. I take the threat of nuclear weapons in the hands of a hostile and aggressive Iraq very seriously. On September 11 when my district was attacked, I thanked God the terrorists did not have nuclear weapons. We all want to protect this Nation. The question before us today is not whether to protect America, but how best to do so.

Saddam Hussein unquestionably poses a real danger. He has consistently shown a virulent hostility to the United States and to Israel, a willingness to invade other countries without provocation, a willingness to use chemical and biological weapons against civilian populations, a relentless drive to obtain weapons of mass destruction including nuclear weapons and the means to deliver them, and a reckless aggressiveness.

The conclusion is inescapable that the acquisition of nuclear weapons by Iraq would pose an intolerable threat to the United States and to world peace. That threat must be met, if at all possible, through the United Nations and in accordance with international law, but war must be the last resort, not the first option.

The resolution before us is not a compromise. It is in all important respects still very much the original draft: a blank check, like the Gulf of Tonkin resolution. We must not grant the President a blank check.

Make no mistake, this resolution grants the President the power to go to war entirely at his discretion. While the resolution pays lip service to the need for international cooperation, it does not require the President to seek it. While the resolution mentions a desire to work through the United Nations, it does not require the President to exhaust our options at the U.N. before starting a war.

The resolution requires the President to inform Congress that efforts in the U.N. and the international community have failed, but he need not do so until after he starts a war. We must grant the President the power to take prudent action to meet the threat from Iraq but only action that does not itself threaten international peace and security.

The United States should seek a U.N. resolution providing for the immediate return to Iraq of beefed-up arms inspection teams and demanding that they be afforded unfettered and unconditional access to all sites they deem necessary to accomplish their task of locating and destroying all chemical, biological, and nuclear weapons and their production facilities.

The U.N. resolution should authorize the use of military force to the extent necessary to overcome any Iraqi attempts to interfere with the inspection teams, and Congress should authorize the President to use such military force only to enable the inspection teams to do their jobs.

We might this way be able to eliminate the threat of Iraq's chemical, biological, and nuclear weapons without military conflict. But if military conflict occurred, we would be better off as part of a multilateral effort enforcing a Security Council inspection and disarmament order, with the onus on Saddam Hussein for starting the conflict, than we would as the Lone Ranger invading Iraq on our own, with most of the world looking on in disapproval.

Let me remind my colleagues: Before they were ejected from Iraq, U.N. inspectors destroyed more weapons and more weapons facilities than did the coalition forces during the Gulf War. This proven, successful course of action should be fully utilized before we risk regional conflagration.

I believe the Security Council would adopt a resolution embodying such a specific limited approach, and that, working through the U.N. and with other nations, the U.S. could participate in successfully implementing it.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, the President insists that, in addition to disarming Saddam, we must overthrow his regime. Demanding regime change is extremely dangerous. It is one thing to tell Saddam he must disarm. It is quite another to demand the end of his regime.

Faced with such a threat, which in practical terms means his death, there would be nothing to deter Saddam Hussein from deciding, like Samson in the Philistine temple, that he might as well pull the world down with him. Why should he not go down in history as an Arab hero by attacking Israel with chemical or biological weapons of perhaps devastating lethality? Israel might then feel compelled to retaliate, and no one could calculate the course of escalation from there.

But Members do not need to take my evaluation of this threat. Just yesterday, the director of the CIA, George Tenet, told the other body that "Baghdad, for now, appears to be drawing a line short of conducting terrorist attacks with conventional or chemical or biological weapons." But, he continued, if Saddam concluded the survival of his regime was threatened, "he probably would become much less constrained in adopting terrorist action."

Mr. Speaker, we must constrain the administration from pursuing this perilous course. The substitute resolution offered by the gentleman from South Carolina (Mr. SPRATT) grants the President the authority to use military force as part of a multilateral effort to divest Saddam of his weapons of mass destruction.

That is as far as we should go. We must draw this line, Mr. Speaker, not because we are unconcerned with our country's security, but precisely because we care so very, very much for it.

TITLE IX—COMMERCIAL REUSABLE IN-SPACE TRANSPORTATION

SEC. 901. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the "Commercial Reusable In-Space Transportation Act of 2002".

SEC. 902. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) It is in the national interest to encourage the production of cost-effective, in-space transportation systems, which would be built and operated by the private sector on a commercial basis.

(2) The use of reusable in-space transportation systems will enhance performance levels of in-space operations, enhance efficient and safe disposal of satellites at the end of their useful lives, and increase the capability and reliability of existing ground-to-space launch vehicles.

(3) Commercial reusable in-space transportation systems will enhance the economic well-being and national security of the United States by reducing space operations costs for commercial and national space programs and by adding new space capabilities to space operations.

(4) Commercial reusable in-space transportation systems will provide new cost-effective space capabilities (including orbital transfers from low altitude orbits to high altitude orbits and return, the correction of erroneous satellite orbits, and the recovery, refurbishment, and refueling of satellites) and the provision of upper stage functions to increase ground-to-orbit launch vehicle payloads to geostationary and other high energy orbits.

(5) Commercial reusable in-space transportation systems can enhance and enable the space exploration of the United States by providing lower cost trajectory injection from earth orbit, transit trajectory control, and planet arrival deceleration to support potential National Aeronautics and Space Administration missions to Mars, Pluto, and other planets.

(6) Satellites stranded in erroneous earth orbit due to deficiencies in their launch represent substantial economic loss to the United States and present substantial concerns for the current backlog of national space assets.

(7) Commercial reusable in-space transportation systems can provide new options for alternative planning approaches and risk management to enhance the mission assurance of national space assets.

(8) Commercial reusable in-space transportation systems developed by the private sector can provide in-space transportation services to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Defense, the National Reconnaissance Office, and other agencies without the need for the United States to bear the cost of production of such systems.

(9) The availability of loan guarantees, with the cost of credit risk to the United States paid by the private-sector, is an effective means by which the United States can help qualifying private-sector companies secure otherwise unattainable private financing for the production of commercial reusable in-space transportation systems, while at the same time minimizing Government commitment and involvement in the development of such systems.

SEC. 903. LOAN GUARANTEES FOR PRODUCTION OF COMMERCIAL REUSABLE IN-SPACE TRANSPORTATION.

(a) AUTHORITY TO MAKE LOAN GUARANTEES.—The Secretary may guarantee loans made to eligible United States commercial providers for purposes of producing commercial reusable in-space transportation services or systems.

(b) ELIGIBLE UNITED STATES COMMERCIAL PROVIDERS.—The Secretary shall prescribe requirements for the eligibility of United States commercial providers for loan guarantees under this section. Such requirements shall ensure that eligible providers are financially capable of undertaking a loan guaranteed under this section.

(c) LIMITATION ON LOANS GUARANTEED.—The Secretary may not guarantee a loan for a United States commercial provider under this section unless the Secretary determines that credit would not otherwise be reasonably available at the time of the guarantee for the commercial reusable in-space transportation service or system to be produced utilizing the proceeds of the loan.

(d) CREDIT SUBSIDY.—

(1) COLLECTION REQUIRED.—The Secretary shall collect from each United States commercial provider receiving a loan guarantee under this section an amount equal to the amount, as determined by the Secretary, to cover the cost, as defined in section 502(5) of the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, of the loan guarantee.

(2) PERIODIC DISBURSEMENTS.—In the case of a loan guarantee in which proceeds of the loan are disbursed over time, the Secretary shall collect the amount required under this subsection on a pro rata basis, as determined by the Secretary, at the time of each disbursement.

(e) OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—

(1) PROHIBITION ON SUBORDINATION.—A loan guaranteed under this section may not be subordinated to another debt contracted by the United States commercial provider concerned, or to any other claims against such provider.

(2) RESTRICTION ON INCOME.—A loan guaranteed under this section may not—

(A) provide income which is excluded from gross income for purposes of chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; or

(B) provide significant collateral or security, as determined by the Secretary, for other obligations the income from which is so excluded.

(3) TREATMENT OF GUARANTEE.—The guarantee of a loan under this section shall be conclusive evidence of the following:

(A) That the guarantee has been properly obtained.

(B) That the loan qualifies for the guarantee.

(C) That, but for fraud or material misrepresentation by the holder of the loan, the guarantee is valid, legal, and enforceable.

(4) OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—The Secretary may establish any other terms and conditions for a guarantee of a loan under this section, as the Secretary considers appropriate to protect the financial interests of the United States.

(f) ENFORCEMENT OF RIGHTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Attorney General may take any action the Attorney General considers appropriate to enforce any right accruing to the United States under a loan guarantee under this section.

(2) FORBEARANCE.—The Attorney General may, with the approval of the parties concerned, forebear from enforcing any right of the United States under a loan guaranteed under this section for the benefit of a United States commercial provider if such forbearance will not result in any cost, as defined in section 502(5) of the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990, to the United States.

(3) UTILIZATION OF PROPERTY.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law and subject to the terms of a loan guaranteed under this section, upon the default of a United States commercial provider under the loan, the Secretary may, at the election of the Secretary—

(A) assume control of the physical asset financed by the loan; and

(B) complete, reconstruction, reconstruct, renovate, repair, maintain, operate, or sell the physical asset.

(g) CREDIT INSTRUMENTS.—

(1) AUTHORITY TO ISSUE INSTRUMENTS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Secretary may, subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary considers appropriate, issue credit instruments to United States commercial providers of in-space transportation services or system, with the aggregate cost (as determined under the provisions of the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990 (2 U.S.C. 661 et seq.)) of such instruments not to exceed $1,500,000,000, but only to the extent that new budget authority to cover such costs is provided in subsequent appropriations Acts or authority is otherwise provided in subsequent appropriations Acts.

(2) CREDIT SUBSIDY.—The Secretary shall provide a credit subsidy for any credit instrument issued under this subsection in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Credit Reform Act of 1990.

(3) CONSTRUCTION.—The eligibility of a United States commercial provider of in-space transportation services or systems for a credit instrument under this subsection is in addition to any eligibility of such provider for a loan guarantee under other provisions of this section.

SEC. 904. DEFINITIONS.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The managers on the part of the House and the Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 5010), making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2003, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and the Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report.

The conference agreement on the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2003, incorporates some of the provisions of both the House and Senate versions of the bill. The language and allocations set forth in House Report 107-532 and Senate Report 107-213 should be complied with unless specifically addressed in the accompanying bill and statement of the managers to the contrary.

Senate Amendment: The Senate deleted the entire House bill after the enacting clause and inserted the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes a revised bill.

DEFINITION OF PROGRAM, PROJECT, AND ACTIVITY

The conferees agree that for the purposes of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (Public Law 99-177) as amended by the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Reaffirmation Act of 1987 (Public Law 100-119) and by the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-508), the term program, project, and activity for appropriations contained in this Act shall be defined as the most specific level of budget items identified in the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2003, the accompanying House and Senate Committee reports, the conference report and accompanying joint explanatory statement of the managers of the Committee of Conference, the related classified annexes and reports, and the P-1 and R-1 budget justification documents as subsequently modified by Congressional action. The following exception to the above definition shall apply: for the Military Personnel and the Operation and Maintenance accounts, the term "program, project, and activity" is defined as the appropriations accounts contained in the Department of Defense Appropriations Act.

At the time the President submits his budget for fiscal year 2004, the conferees direct the Department of Defense to transmit to the congressional defense committees budget justification documents to be known as the "M-1" and "O-1" which shall identify, at the budget activity, activity group, and subactivity group level, the amounts requested by the President to be appropriated to the Department of Defense for military personnel and operation and maintenance in any budget request, or amended budget request, for fiscal year 2004.

SPECIAL INTEREST ITEMS

Items for which additional funds have been provided as shown in the project level adjustment tables or items identified in paragraphs using the phrase "only for" or "only to" in this Statement, are congressional interest items for the purpose of the Base for Reprogramming (DD 1414). Each of these items must be carried on the DD Form 1414 at the stated amount, or a revised amount if changed during the conference or if otherwise specifically addressed in the conference report. These items remain special interest items whether or not they are repeated in a subsequent conference report or Statement.

CLASSIFIED ANNEX

Adjustments to classified programs are addressed in the classified annex accompanying this report.

MANAGEMENT RESERVE FUNDS

Each service headquarters retains a portion of its operation and maintenance appropriation as a reserve to meet emergent needs. From fiscal year 1999 through fiscal year 2002, the services set aside the following amounts in management reserve funds: Army, $278,000,000; Navy, $466,000,000; Air Force, $200,000,000; and, Marine Corps, $96,000,000. In fiscal year 2002 alone, the Army set aside $128,000,000; the Navy, $150,000,000; the Air Force, $50,000,000; and, the Marines, $30,000,000. These funds are used at the discretion of the service chiefs or service secretaries and, since fiscal year 1999, have been used for projects ranging in cost from $5,000 to $40,100,000.

The amount retained by the Army in the management reserve fund grew from $50,000,000 in fiscal year 2001 to $128,000,000 in fiscal year 2002. The Navy increased its management reserve from $81,000,000 in fiscal year 1999 to $150,000,000 in fiscal year 2002. The Marine Corps' management reserve historically has been between $30,000,000, and $40,000,000, significantly higher than the Army, Navy, and Air Force reserve funds when considered as a percentage of the operation and maintenance funding provided for each service. The Air Force management reserve fund has remained constant at $50,000,000 per year. The services have applied the reserve funds to address a broad range of requirements, ranging from employment kiosks at minority institutions, to funding for a North Atlantic Treaty Organization Meeting, to ship and aircraft depot maintenance.

The conferees acknowledge the utility of retaining a small amount of the operation and maintenance funds appropriate for each service in the service headquarters to address emergent requirements. The conferees are concerned, however, with the recent growth in the amounts retained in the management reserve funds. Further, the growing amounts that the service chiefs and service secretaries have chosen to withhold from distribution to field activities call into question the validity of the budget justification process.

The conferees direct that not more than the following amounts may be used for service chief/service secretary reserve funds:

Operation and Maintenance, Army .....	$50,000,000
Operation and Maintenance, Navy .....	50,000,000

Operation and Maintenance, Marine Corps .....	10,000,000
Operation and Maintenance, Air Force .....	50,000,000

Additionally, the conferees direct that not later than 60 days after the end of fiscal year 2003, the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Navy, and the Secretary of the Air Force shall each submit to the congressional defense committees a report detailing service chief/service secretary reserve fund expenditures during the fiscal year.

MIDWAY AIRFIELD

The conferees are aware of the continuing efforts to forge a long term solution for the operation and maintenance of the Midway Island airfield, and are aware that Department of Defense aircraft used the Midway facility 17 times in fiscal year 2002. The conferees encourage the Department of Defense, in conjunction with the Department of the Interior, to identify a long-term contracting solution to continue the availability of this airfield in a manner which meets the refueling and emergency divert airfield requirements of military aircraft.

The conferees are aware that experience in Afghanistan showed once again that while the Army is continuing to invest significant sums in developing better soldier equipment, the system to get that equipment to soldiers still has major shortcomings. Consequently, the Army now estimates that its soldiers spend on average about $300 per year out of pocket to buy additional necessary equipment ranging from hydration systems to GPS receivers. Equipment shortages reported by American soldiers in Afghanistan and elsewhere include modern knee and elbow pads, hydration systems to replace canteens, GPS receivers, lensatic compasses, sunglasses, helmet pads, polypropylene underwear, assault packs, close combat optics, soldier intercoms, viper binoculars, black fleece and "bear suits", thermal weapons sights, body armor, and other important basic gear. In Afghanistan, some soldiers reported the loss of circulation in their arms in situations where they had to wear the new Interceptor Body Armor with the ALICE rucksack frame or the current Load Bearing Vest instead of the MOLLE pack for which it was designed. Many Reserve Components have a far worse equipment situation. For example, soldiers from the 1-151st Infantry of the Indiana Army National Guard personally purchased radios from local discount department stores to serve as soldier intercoms for their deployment to Bosnia. With the expected increased OPTEMPO of both active and reserve forces to sustain the war on terrorism, this problem is becoming evermore acute and unacceptable.

The conferees believe the Army leadership must take a fresh look at the entire system for issuing soldier equipment. It is unacceptable for American soldiers—both active and reserve—to be deployed with anything but the best equipment the Army has developed, and it must be a priority objective to dramatically improve the situation where soldiers deploy with lower quality gear that could cost their lives. In the short term this will require more investment in the Soldier Enhancement Program, the Centralized Funding and Fielding activity, and other accounts whose purpose is to field new equipment to soldiers expeditiously. In the long term, the Army must retool its practices and procedures for equipping its soldiers, in order to field the most advanced gear faster and to more soldiers. The Secretary of the Army is directed to submit a report to the congressional defense committees by May 1, 2003 assessing and identifying the major soldier equipment shortages in all major active and reserve component units, identifying the highest priority Army-wide soldier equipment items that require higher procurement rates and faster distribution, and explaining how the Army plans to address those needs. This report shall also present the Army's plan and timetable for transforming its practices and procedures for procuring and distributing soldier equipment in order to dramatically improve the distribution of modern soldier equipment across the board to all units—both active and reserve.

NATIONAL MEMORIAL CEMETERY OF THE PACIFIC

The conferees are pleased that the Department of the Army has been able to accomplish the necessary research and coordination with the Department of Veterans Affairs in order to bring about the remarking of 178 graves at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific, to properly denote service members killed on December 7, 1941 on United States Ships Oklahoma, West Virginia, California, Utah, Nevada, and Curtis, as well as Hickam Air Field. The Conferees understand that the new grave markers will be provided to the National Cemetery in Hawaii by approximately November 20, 2002 with the goal of replacing the 178 grave markers by December 7, 2002.

INTERNET ACCESS KOREA

The conferees direct that of the funds provided in Operation and Maintenance, Army, $2,500,000 shall be available only to accelerate the Army Knowledge Online pilot program to full implementation in order to provide access to internet and electronic mail services for soldiers stationed in the Republic of Korea.

FORT BAKER

The conference agreement provides an additional $2,500,000 to continue infrastructure repairs at Fort Baker. The accompanying bill provides authority to transfer these funds under the same terms and conditions and to the same federal recipient as specified under Operation and Maintenance, Army, in P.L. 107-117

LOWRY BOMBING RANGE

The Conferees are aware of the unique environmental clean-up measures needed at the former Lowry Bombing and Gunnery Range, and recognize the importance of expediting restoration and containment activities to permit planned development in the surrounding area to proceed without delay. The conferees encourage the Corps of Engineers to provide sufficient resources, and select appropriate clean-up and containment methodologies, in a timely manner, to ensure that the Jeep demolition range and the 20-millimeter range areas are safe for future economic, educational and recreational activities.

SUSTAINMENT, RESTORATION AND

The conferees direct that facilities sustainment, restoration and modernization funds recommended in this bill shall provide the following program baseline in fiscal year 2003. Any adjustments directed in the bill shall be applied to this baseline:

EX-ORISKANY DISPOSAL

The conferees recommend an additional $2,800,000 in Operation and Maintenance, Navy for the remediation, demilitarization and disposal of the Ex-Oriskany in the manner determined by the Secretary of the Navy to be most advantageous.

NAVAL SHIPYARD APPRENTICE PROGRAM

The conferees agree to provide an increase of $10,000,000 for the Shipyard Apprentice program. The conferees direct that during fiscal year 2003 the Navy shall induct classes of no fewer than 125 apprentices, respectively, at each of the Naval Shipyards. The conferees further direct the Navy to include the costs of the fiscal year 2004 class of apprentices in the budget request.

NAVY PILOT HUMAN RESOURCES CALL CENTER

The conferees direct that of the funds provided in Operation and Maintenance, Navy, not less than $1,000,000 shall be made available for the Navy Pilot Human Resources Call Center, Cutler, Maine.

CASUALTY CARE RESEARCH CENTER

The conferees recommend $4,300,000 for the Center of Excellence for Disaster Management and Humanitarian Assistance (COE), of which $600,000 shall be made available for the Casualty Care Research Center.

CENTRAL KITSAP SCHOOL

The conferees included a general provision, Section 8108, that includes $2,700,000 for a grant to the Central Kitsap School District for the construction and outfitting of the Central Kitsap School special needs learning center, to meet the needs of Department of Defense special needs students at Submarine Base Bangor, Washington.

CLASSIFICATION OF VESSELS

The American Bureau of Shipping has been expressly designated in 46 U.S.C. 3316(a) as the chosen instrument of the United States Government in classifying all vessels owned by the United States Government (including those leased or bareboat chartered) and in matters related to classification. The conferees therefore note with approval Military Sealift Command's compliance with those requirements in its recent request for proposal for a high speed vessel and expect continued compliance in all subsequent procurements, excluding experimental or service unique vessels, theater-assigned assets, or as designated by the service secretary. Congress designated the American Bureau of Shipping for those purposes in furtherance of the national interest in a strong merchant marine and industrial base, and the conferees expect all government agencies to comply with 46 USC 3316(a).

NAVY MARINE CORPS INTRANET

The conferees believe that the Navy has made significant progress in establishing an adequate test plan for the Navy Marine Corps Intranet. Accordingly, the conferees have included a general provision requiring that the next NMCI decision point include an evaluation of the Operational Assessment and a certification to the congressional defense committees that the results of the assessment are acceptable for additional seat orders.

The conferees remain concerned, however, about the legacy application challenges the program faces and believe that greater attention must be paid to innovative, commercially available secure technologies and solutions to address this problem. In an NMCI Stakeholders' Council Issue Paper dated more than one year ago, CINCPACFLT proposed the exploration of using ultra thin clients as a solution to both the security and software incompatibilities certain legacy applications present to the NMCI network. To date, these recommendations have not been acted on. The conferees recommend $5,000,000 to conduct a pilot program at CINCPACFLT using ultra thin clients integrated with a network security solution previously evaluated by the National Security Agency at a Level of Trust not less than B2, and currently at a minimum Common Criteria Evaluation Assurance Level (EAL) of not less than 4.

duty and Reserve CSAR air crews to the United Kingdom to participate in an Inter-fly program to train, operate, evaluate and exchange operational techniques and procedures on the EH-101. The Air Force has identified mission deficiencies with the current

LEGACY

The conference agreement provides $8,400,000 for continuation of the Legacy program. From within these funds, the conferees direct the Department to continue naval archaeology programs in the Lake Champlain basin. Of equal importance to the conferees are the reclamation of the C.S.S. Alabama, the recovery and preservation of the U.S.S. Monitor, the U.S.S. Constitution Museum, the Graveyard of the Atlantic Museum, the U.S.S. Massachusetts and other naval vessels of Battleship Cove, the preservation of the cruiser Olympia of the Independence Seaport Museum, the preservation of the LST 325 in the Port of Mobile and restoration of the Lincoln Cottage of the Armed Forces Retirement Home. The Undersecretary of Defense (Comptroller) shall report to the Appropriations Committees no later than March 15, 2003, on the allocation of Legacy funding, and the status of the projects named above.

MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY INITIATIVES

The conferees are aware of Department of Defense data showing that the leading cause of death and serious injury for all military personnel is motor vehicle crashes as opposed to training accidents or combat. Between fiscal year 2001 and the first 10 months of fiscal year 2002, Department of Defense data show fatalities among military personnel in motor vehicle crashes have increased by 35 percent—from 191 to 258. Fiscal year 2002 would appear to be the highest motor vehicle fatality rate for military personnel in at least four years, with the Marine Corps experiencing an especially high death rate compared to the other services. The Marine Corps reports that of the 25 Marines killed in motor vehicle crashes in fiscal year 2001 and 46 killed in fiscal year 2002, well over half were not wearing seat belts. During the Thanksgiving holiday period, law enforcement officials across the nation will conduct special seat belt enforcement activities as part of the U.S. Department of Transportation Click It Or Ticket program. The conferees strongly encourage the Secretary of Defense to direct all services to join the Marine Corps in actively participating in this program and other similar seat belt usage efforts throughout the year. The Secretary is directed to submit a report to the congressional defense committees within 90 days of enactment of this Act summarizing personal motor vehicle safety statistics of each service for the last five fiscal years and outlining the plans of each service to increase efforts to reduce the level of deaths and injuries suffered by its personnel from motor vehicle accidents.

DLAMP

The conferees remain concerned about the focus and management of the Defense Leadership and Management Program (DLAMP). Though during fiscal year 2002 DLAMP restructured, the outcome of the restructure is unclear and the full costs of the program are poorly defined. The Department needs to insure that the restructured program is more mission-oriented, focused, efficient, and effective. Additionally, the conferees direct that any reductions to this program cannot be applied to the leased facility in Southbridge, Massachusetts.

STARBASE

The conferees are aware of the high demand and strong support for the STARBASE civil-military program that has reached over 200,000 youths and their families at 39 locations. The conferees urge the Department to strengthen its management of this program in line with the recommendations made in the STARBASE program annual report. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the congressional defense committees by no later than March 1, 2003 summarizing the status of implementing program improvements in the areas of systematic assessment, core curriculum, host service component regulations, STARBASE resource/training center, startup program standardization, and quality control.

SECURE WIRELESS TECHNOLOGY

The conferees recommend that of the funds requested in the Defense Emergency Response Fund and transferred to Operation and Maintenance, Army Reserve, for enhanced secure communications, $4,500,000 may be available to increase the availability of current generation NSA-approved secure nationwide digital cell phones to meet urgent service needs. Furthermore, the conferees believe that significant development opportunities have arisen in this area since the submission of the budget request. An accelerated research and development investment strategy could realize advancements that would greatly benefit all defense community users of this technology. The conferees direct the Department to consider accelerating the National Security Agency's continued development of secure cellular wireless technology and multi-band functionality. To accomplish this the conferees would be supportive of a reprogramming of $10,000,000 to support development of a more robust secure nationwide cellular capability with multi-band functionality.

PROCUREMENT OF SECURITY VEHICLES

The conferees are concerned about the justification provided for the procurement of physical security vehicles. The services' budget requests provide little explanation for the number of vehicles requested or the fluctuation in costs from one year to the next. In fact, the current budget request presents a disparity in costs by service ranging from $180,000 to $250,000 per physical security vehicle. The conferees believe that a better presentation of the request for procurement of these vehicles is necessary. Accordingly, the conferees direct the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) to be the central coordinator of all budget justification material for physical security vehicle procurement. The Under Secretary shall submit to the congressional defense committees a separate consolidated justification that clearly explains each service's requirement and the maximum purchase cost authority requested.

NATIONAL IMAGERY AND MAPPING AGENCY

NFIP/JMIP CONSOLIDATION

The House included language directing that all NIMA funding be consolidated within the National Foreign Intelligence Program (NFIP) account. The Senate did not include such language. In response to the House direction, the Secretary of Defense stated that he is working with the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) to determine that most efficient resource strategy for NIMA and is committed to revising the NIMA budget appropriately in the fiscal year 2004 President's Budget Request. The conferees appreciate the commitment of the Secretary of Defense on this matter, and on the basis of this commitment, the House recedes.

SUPPORT TO SMALL BUSINESS

The conferees recognize the importance of small business to the Department's procurement chain. In order to effectively compete in federal procurement processes, small businesses require proficiency in electronic commerce and electronic business practices. As such, the conferees recommend the Department seek innovative methods for providing support to small business supply providers in these areas and full funding of the Supply Chain Management program.

UH-60 BLACKHAWK HELICOPTERS

The conference agreement includes $269,916,000 to procure 19 UH-60 Blackhawk helicopters. This is an increase of $116,555,000, providing for an additional seven aircraft. Of the additional aircraft in the conference agreement, two UH-60L aircraft are available only for the Army Reserve as described in House Report 107-532. Of the additional aircraft, three shall be HH-60L Medical Evacuation (MEDEVAC) models available only for units of the Army National Guard, and two aircraft shall be UH-60L models available only for units of the Army National Guard.

CH-47F UPGRADE PROGRAM RESTRUCTURING

The conferees agree to provide an additional $39,100,000 to facilitate the restructuring of the CH-47F Chinook helicopter upgrade program. Given the critical importance of this improved helicopter to the Army's Objective Force, these funds should be used to facilitate a program restructuring in order to upgrade the full fleet of helicopters (which is currently 465) at the most efficient economic rate, which the conferees believe is between 36 and 48 helicopters per year. The Army is directed to ensure that out-year budgetary and program plans are implemented to meet 100 percent of the

ATIRCM

The conferees agree not to rescind $3,000,000 for ATIRCM as recommended by the House. These funds should have been reprogrammed to USSOCOM when responsibility for this program was moved to USSOCOM. The conferees direct the Army to expeditiously submit a reprogramming to the Congress in order to properly realign these funds to Procurement, Defense-Wide.

M113 Carrier Modifications

The Department of Defense's budget request for this program contained funding only for the fielding of current M113A3s and the purchase of new T-150 track to be used by the Counter Attack Corps. Unfortunately, the budget request contained no funding for upgrades of the M113A2 to the more modern, more survivable A3 variant. While the conferees support the Army's desire to fund those technologies and systems that best support the Army's goal of transformation, the conferees believe our current front line soldiers should not be denied the benefits of modern technology already in the industrial base. Therefore, in addition to funds requested for fielding current M113A3s, the conferees direct that up to $15,000,000 be used only for M113 upgrades.

CONTINUITY OF OPERATIONS

The budget request included $215,000,000 in funding under the Defense Emergency Response Fund for activities associated with upgrades and improvements to alternate relocation sites. The conferees have provided $120,000,000 for these activities. The conferees note that the Army, which is the executive agent, has provided little justification for these funds, no plan for their execution, has not coordinated military construction requirements at the sites, and has not demonstrated a commitment to support funding for these activities in subsequent years. For these reasons, the conferees direct that none of the funds provided for alternate relocation sites may be obligated until 30 days after the Secretary of the Army provides a report to the congressional defense committees which provides, in detail, the proposed use of funding, a timeline for execution, a review of necessary improvements to infrastructure, and a plan for funding in subsequent years.

STRYKER BRIGADE COMBAT TEAMS

In order to enhance the Army's transformation initiatives, the conferees provide an additional $59,500,000 for fielding of the Stryker Brigade Combat Teams (SBAT). Of this amount, $42,500,000 is provided in the "Operation and Maintenance, Army" appropriation and $17,000,000 in the "Other Procurement, Army" appropriation. The conferees direct that the additional operation and maintenance funding be made available to the Army Materiel Command Transformation Support Office, specifically to support the fielding of the six brigade teams.

GENERATORS

The conference agreement provides $79,180,000, as provided in the budget request, for generators and associated equipment. Of this amount, the conferees direct that no less than $2,400,000 shall be available only for the procurement of 2kW Military Tactical Generators, as proposed in the budget request.

CVN-77 INTEGRATED WARFARE SYSTEM (IWS)

The conferees agree to provide $90,000,000 for the CVN-77 Integrated Warfare System (IWS) instead of $250,000,000 as proposed by the House and no funding as proposed by the Senate. The conferees do not agree to the House restriction on the obligation of funds for the CVN-77 IWS contract data package.

It is the sense of the conferees that every opportunity should be taken to include potentially transformational technologies on the CVN-77 as it is being constructed. This will not only provide enhanced warfighting and defensive capabilities in the near-term, but also lay a cornerstone for risk and cost reduction on the CVN(X) program which is also strongly supported by the conferees.

To that end, the conferees direct that the additional funds provided are only for transformational technologies and initiatives for other CVN-77 IWS to include: (1) design and development of a common flexible island, (2) full service integrated networks to include data, voice, sensor, and HM&E monitoring and control, (3) multi-modal display workstation concepts using middleware and open system architectures, and (4) integrated advanced strike and mission planning capabilities for both the ship and embarked airwings.

The conferees also direct the Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Research, Development, and Acquisition to provide, no later than March 15, 2003, a revised program acquisition strategy for the CVN-77 which incorporates these transformational initiatives and establishes a foundation for regular technology refresh and product improvements during the life cycle of the ship.

ROPELESS ELEVATOR

The conferees understand the Department of the Navy is working on design concepts for ropeless elevator systems in aircraft carriers. The conferees support this effort and encourages the Navy to continue this development in future defense budgets.

F-22

The conferees agree with the language in the House and Senate reports regarding the F-22 program. In addition, the conferees agree, with some modification, to a general provision included in the House bill related to the F-22 testing program. Finally, of the amounts provided for the F-22, the conferees designate $207,000,000, requested for the producibility improvement program, as a special interest item. If the Air Force believes it is necessary to use these funds for an alternative purpose, the Department must submit a prior approval reprogramming.

C-17 AIRCRAFT

In the Department of Defense's fiscal year 2003 budget submission, the Air Force did not request a sufficient amount to fully fund the purchase of 15 C-17 cargo aircraft per year. Instead, it requested only the amount of funds it expected to obligate each year to start production of 15 aircraft, and financed the remaining costs in later years. This financing scheme runs counter to the "full funding" principles which guide Federal government procurement practice, and thereby creates a future liability for the Air Force and Congress. For this reason, the conferees disapprove the Air Force's C-17 financing proposal. As such, the conference agreement includes an increase of $585,900,000 over the budget request to fully fund the purchase of 15 C-17 aircraft in fiscal year 2003. Additionally, the conferees agree to retain House language which directs that funds made available within the "Aircraft Procurement, Air Force" account be used for advance procurement of 15 aircraft.

NATO AWACS

Not later than 60 days after the enactment of this Act, the Commander in Chief of the United States European Command shall submit a plan to the congressional defense committees that provides for the refurbishment and re-engining of the NATO AWACS aircraft fleet. This report should reflect the significant contribution made by the NATO AWACS fleet in response to the attack on the United States on September 11, 2001, and the invocation of Article V of the North Atlantic Treaty. The plan shall also describe any necessary memorandum of agreement between the United States and NATO for the refurbishment and re-engining of these aircraft.

APPLICATION OF BERRY AMENDMENT TO MULTI-YEAR AIRCRAFT LEASE PILOT PROGRAM

Due to the special circumstances surrounding the Multi-Year Aircraft Lease Pilot Program authorized in fiscal year 2002, Congress enacted Section 308 of P.L. 107-206 to clarify Berry Amendment restrictions on the use of foreign sourced specialty metals in commercial aircraft to be leased under this program. In this case, the Congress concurred with views expressed by Air Force officials that the unique financial and time-sensitive requirements of the aircraft lease arrangements and the administrative complexity involved in making Berry Amendment determinations on a plane-by-plane basis for over 100 aircraft built under commercial practices instead of under military acquisition procedures would add so much cost and delay that the entire program would be undermined. Enactment of Section 308 was intended to provide the opportunity to ensure that the Air Force would be able to economically procure air refueling tanker replacement aircraft necessary to the national security while maintaining the overall integrity of the Berry Amendment for future application.

The conferees note the assertion expressed by some industry officials that if the aircraft manufacturer for this lease program were allowed to calculate Berry Amendment requirements on a system-level basis for the entire fleet of aircraft, it could demonstrate that these aircraft contain a very high percentage content of domestically produced specialty metals such as titanium. The conferees believe this data could be useful in future deliberations about this program. The Secretary of the Air Force is therefore directed to provide the congressional defense committees with estimates of the amount, value, and overall percentage of foreign and domestic-sourced specialty metals (under the definitions of the Berry Amendment) to be used in the fleet of leased aircraft under this program and how this compares to the specialty metal content of military aircraft that have been procured by the Air Force over the last five years. The Secretary shall use such methodology as he determines will provide the most accurate estimates at a reasonable cost after consultations with the specialty metals and aircraft manufacturing industries. This report shall be submitted to Congress no later than six months after enactment of this Act.

PREDATOR UNMANNED AERIAL VEHICLE (UAV)

The conferees agree to provide an additional $26,000,000 for the acquisition of not less than three Predator B turboprop aircraft, including spares. Should the program office determine there are additional costs for aircraft, spares, support equipment, sensors, and production efforts which cannot be accommodated within the amount appropriated, the Air Force should consider submitting to Congress the appropriate reprogramming request to fund these requirements.

The conferees agree to provide an additional $68,000,000 in transfer from the Defense Emergency Response Fund for the acquisition of Predator A UAVs. This amount, when added to the request of $23,068,000, is for the acquisition of 22 air vehicles.

DEFENSE AIRBORNE RECONNAISSANCE PROGRAM

The conferees agree to reduce funding for the RIVET JOINT Quick Reaction Capability (QRC) by $12,700,000 instead of $15,000,000 as proposed by the House and no reduction as proposed by the Senate.

The conferees are aware the Air Force preferred to have these funds transferred to a different line in the Aircraft Procurement, Air Force account to fund the same QRC on the COMPASS CALL platform. The conferees agree that should the Air Force determine that it wishes to proceed with putting this QRC on the COMPASS CALL aircraft, it should submit a request to reprogram funds and justify the requirement for expanding the program.

MAGNETO INDUCTIVE INITIATOR

The President's budget request includes $3,000,000 to be used for Engineering and Manufacturing Development of the Magneto Inductive Initiator. The conferees support the rapid fielding of this capability which will allow for U.S. forces to have a remote precision demolition capability that is highly reliable in hardened structures, bunkers, caves, buildings, and in the littoral surf zone. The conferees ask to be kept apprised of the progress of this important program.

SOLID STATE LASERS

There has been substantial technical progress in the ongoing solid state laser development efforts, and the need to continue rapid progress toward developing an Army tactical laser weapons capability for the Objective Force. Therefore, the conferees urge the Army to allocate $11,200,000, as proposed in the fiscal year 2003 budget request, for High Energy Laster Technology to the current Solid State Heat Capacity Laser program.

BRILLIANT ANTI-ARMOR TECHNOLOGY (BAT) AND BAT P3I SUBMUNITION PROGRAM

The conferees agree with the recommendations found in both the House and Senate reports to terminate the BAT program, and accordingly, include a reduction of $145,293,000 to this program. The conference agreement also provides $45,000,000 of the funds requested for this program for the purpose of developing and testing a multi-mode seeker technology. In addition, the conferees direct the Army establish a new project code for the seeker development to distinguish this work from the base BAT and BAT P3I programs.

LOITERING ATTACK MISSILE REQUIREMENTS REVIEW

The conferees direct the Secretary of the Army to submit a report to the congressional defense committees by no later than March 31, 2003, comparing and contrasting the cost, technical risk, schedule risk, and combat capability of replacing the planned Loitering Attack Missile (LAM) with a comparable capability centered on the use of Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAV) with a smart seeker munition. This report shall assess whether a UAV with a smart seeker munition can provide equal or better combat capability within the same or a shorter timeframe compared to use of the LAM under the existing Army Objective Force Transformation plan. This report shall also include an analysis of the relative capabilities of each system to discern friend or foe in real time and to limit collateral damage. It shall also assess whether a UAV/smart munition option provides better value and greater overall combat effectiveness to the Army when considering the added potential of combining surveillance and strike capability on the same platform.

FUTURE COMBAT SYSTEM AND INTELLIGENT MINEFIELDS

The conferees agree to provide an additional $105,000,000 for the Army's next generation warfighting capability, the Future Combat System. The conferees also agree with the Senate's language that encourages the Army to invest part of this additional funding into a development program for a next generation intelligent minefield. The conferees direct that the Army clearly define the requirements for a next generation intelligent minefield and ensure compliance with the Ottawa Treaty, and report back to the House and Senate Appropriations Committee with detailed plans for such a system. The conferees understand that the Army has already begun this process with plans to incorporate the Intelligent Munitions System (IMS) into the Future Combat System. The conferees urge that the Army consider using a portion of this additional funding to begin development of the IMS. Funds for the intelligent minefield may be obligated before the Milestone B decision for the Future Combat System program, for demonstration and validation of technologies as appropriate.

FUTURE TESTING REQUIREMENTS

The conferees agree with the House report language requiring the Secretary of Defense to provide a report on Future Testing Requirements. The Senate did not address this matter. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to submit this report to the congressional defense committees not later than May 1, 2003. The report should provide an analysis of the capabilities of the test ranges, including the need for investment in new equipment; the capabilities of current modeling and simulation techniques used in testing and evaluation; recommend a means of using modeling and simulation techniques to make the testing of weapons systems more efficient and effective; and propose a five-year plan of integrated investment for both ranges and modeling and simulation techniques.

NON-LINE OF SIGHT (NLOS) CANNON

The conferees agree to align the funding proposed in the Crusader budget amendment of the Non-Line of Sight (NLOS) Cannon to the Artillery Systems-Demonstration/Validation program to ensure that the experienced Army staff who were developing the Crusader will lead the effort to migrate these technologies, and to develop the NLOS cannon. The conferees, therefore, have included a total of $368,500,000, for the Non-Line of Sight Cannon and Resupply Vehicle Program in Artillery Systems Demonstration/Validation, to develop a Non-Line of Sight Cannon. This amount is an increase of $173,000,000 above the President's budget request. The conferees direct that this additional funding be used to integrate cannon technologies with a suitable platform and munitions to ensure that this NLOS Cannon can be delivered in the 2008 timeframe. Finally, the conferees direct the NLOS Cannon program office to closely coordinate its program with the Army's Future Combat Systems program office.

COMBAT SUPPORT HOSPITAL-MOBILE SURGICAL UNIT

The conferees understand that the Army is working to develop a replacement system to the deployable medical hospital. Accordingly, $2,500,000 is provided to the U.S. Army Medical Research and Materiel Command, Ft. Detrick, MD, to prototype a 44-bed Combat Support Hospital consistent with the concept design of the U.S. Army Medical Center and School's ICT report on the Future Medical Support System.

M934 MORTAR—LOW COST COURSE CORRECTION MODULE

The conferees are aware of recently concluded tests sponsored by Army PM-Mortar which support further demonstration and evaluation of the Low Cost Course Correction (LCCC) module for the M934 Mortar. The conferees also note the positive performance of the LCCC module as reported by the Army and encourage the Secretary of the Army to address future funding requirements for the LCCC module and future testing requirements.

ARMY ASSAULT RIFLE EARLY TRANSFORMATION

The conferees are aware of significant Army progress in developing the XM-8 assault rifle as a stand-alone module of the XM-29 assault weapon program. The XM-8 appears to offer significant improvements over the current M-4 assault rifle and may be worthy of fielding on an expedited basis. The conferees direct the Secretary of the Army to review the costs, benefits and feasibility of accelerating replacement of the M-4 with the XM-8. The Secretary shall submit a report to the congressional defense committees by no later than April 1, 2003, comparing and contrasting the cost, weapon performance/capabilities, technical risk, schedule risk, and improvements in overall combat capability of fielding the XM-8 assault rifle module of the XM-29 assault weapon under an initial block development approach compared to the current fielding plan. This report shall specifically assess the benefits of an early block development fielding of the XM-8 in providing equal or better combat capability in a shorter timeframe, and the overall benefits to soldier effectiveness and survivability, compared to waiting for final development of the XM-29 under the existing Army Objective Force Transformation Plan.

PSEUDOFOLLICULITIS BARBE

The Conferees agree that Pseudofolliculitis Barbe (PFB) is a serious condition that impacts many African American military personnel and deserves additional attention. The conferees strongly encourage the Department of Defense to act quickly on a plan of action to initiate research into more effective treatments and control of this problem.

FORCENET

The conferees agree to provide an appropriation of $13,000,000 for the Navy's FORCENET program instead of $20,000,000 as proposed by the House and no appropriation as proposed by the Senate.

Despite the conferees interest in the goals of FORCENET, a program the Chief of Naval Operations considers a key transformation enabler for the 21st Century Navy, concerns remain about the lack of specificity and documentation provided thus far by the Navy. While a solid organizational structure for the development of FORCENET requirements has been established, the Navy must now refine the program's plan and scope. To ensure continued oversight of this important program, the conferees direct that the Secretary of the Navy submit, by May 1, 2003, a detailed report on the FORCENET program. At a minimum, the report shall identify the five-year estimated cost of the program, describe the long term and short term program objectives, define requirements, detail the spiral development and testing milestone plan, and indicate how each existing system will be integrated into the FORCENET approach.

JOINT STRIKE FIGHTER—F136
INTERCHANGEABLE ENGINE

The conferees have included an additional $29,750,000 for the Joint Strike Fighter Interchangeable Engine Program only to continue the current effort to develop and maintain two, competing, interchangeable engine programs for the Joint Strike Fighter.

UNMANNED AERIAL VEHICLES

The conferees agree to provide a total of $262,459,000 for the Navy's tactical unmanned aerial vehicles program.

Broad Area Maritime Surveillance (BAMS): The conferees agree to provide an additional $42,300,000 for the Navy BAMS UAV. Of this amount, $28,300,000 is a transfer from the Defense Emergency Response Fund and shall only be used for the projects and activities as described in justification material submitted by the Navy and detailed in House

Report 107-532; $7,000,000 is to determine the requirement for utilizing existing infrastructure resident in the Tactical Support Centers (TSCs) at P-3/EP-3 bases for hosting the BAMS mission planning and control and to initiate equipment upgrades as necessary; and $7,000,000 is for Global Hawk HAEUAV producibility initiatives such as tooling enhancements and improvements and special test equipment, an effort which the Navy shall coordinate with the Air Force.

The conferees believe the Navy should initiate a technology program to improve maritime ISR, including space-time processing algorithms from electro-optical data.

The conferees agree with the reporting requirements contained in House Report 107-532 with respect to the BAMS UAV.

VTOL UAV Operational Testing: The conferees agree to reduce by $4,000,000 the Navy's request for operational testing of the Vertical Take Off and Landing UAV instead of $9,000,000 as proposed by the House. This reduction is taken without prejudice and may be applied as a general reduction to the program.

USMC Pioneer upgrades: The conferees agree to provide a total of $16,000,000 for upgrades to the Pioneer UAV used in support of the Marine Corps; $7,000,000 is provided in the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Navy appropriation and $9,000,000 is provided in the Weapons Procurement, Navy appropriation. The conferees direct that these funds, and any additional funds as required, shall be used only to upgrade the Pioneer UAV in support of the Marine Corps.

VTOL UAV Rescission: The conferees agree not to rescind $2,000,000 from the $5,000,000 appropriated to the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Navy account in fiscal year 2002 as proposed by the House. The conferees agree that these funds are excess to the requirement for which originally appropriated and therefore direct that these funds instead be used by the Navy to establish a Joint Program Office with the Air Force for the Predator B and Global Hawk UAVs. To the extent that there may be similar vehicle and sensor requirements for the Navy and the Air Force, the Joint Program Office could facilitate the development of requirements, program management, acquisition support, testing and training.

Joint Operational Test Bed (JOTBS): The conferees further agree to provide an additional $4,100,000 for the Joint Operational Test Bed System (JOTBS) project. The conferees further agree to the language contained in House Report 107-532 with respect to designation of the Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Warfare Requirements and Programs (N7/N78), as the program sponsor. The conferees direct the Navy to evaluate the JOTBS prototype to determine if the system adequately addresses Service requirements and if so initiate the development of the necessary documentation of requirements.

NAVAL FIRES NETWORK

The conferees agree to provide an additional $7,500,000 in the Land Attack Technology program for Naval Fires Network (NFN), of which $2,500,000 is for the tactical dissemination module. The conferees agree that remaining funds shall be used to continue architecture design for NFN, to study and initiate a design for the Joint Fires Center, improve training devices, and support major Fleet exercises.

The conferees have also provided an additional $1,300,000 in the Distributed Common Ground Station line to continue development of an open architecture and sustain modernization and enhancement of precision strike capabilities for NFN.

TREATMENT OF RADIATION SICKNESS
RESEARCH

The conference agreement provides $3.4 million for the establishment of a blood bank for the purpose of treating patients exposed to high doses of radiation. The conferees agree that these funds are to establish a blood bank with an entity that has a demonstrated track record in this specific area.

B-1 DSUP PROGRAM

Despite development problems which have plagued the Air Force's B-1 Defense System Upgrade Program (DSUP), the conferees agree to provide the fiscal year 2003 funding requested for this program. Concerned, however, by the need to continue modernizing the B-1 bomber so the aircraft can undertake combat missions in various threat environments, the conferees direct the Air Force to use these funds to explore alternative towed decoy and defensive systems other than the ALE-55 towed decoy included in the Department of Defense's original request. The Secretary of the Air Force shall report to the congressional defense committees on the allocation of these funds not later than January 1, 2003. Finally, the conferees approve a rescission totaling $45,500,000 of prior year funds in excess to the Air Force's DSUP requirements.

MC2C

The conference agreement provides a total of $338,089,000 for the Multi-sensor Command and Control Constellation (MC2C) program. This level is more than sufficient to fully fund all planned MP-RTIP design and platform adaption activities for the coming year. Given the reported technical difficulties this program recently experienced in initial testing, the conferees strongly urge the Air Force to use any remaining funds for sensor and command and control system integration development efforts.

SPACE SURVEILLANCE (MSSS)

The conference agreement includes funding of $48,472,000 for the MSSS program. Of this amount, $13,000,000 shall be used to continue the Panoramic Survey Telescope and Rapid Response System. In addition, $2,000,000 shall be used only to fund the High Accuracy Network Determination System. The conferees are aware of security and electromagnetic interference concerns from antennas located near the site, and recommend allocating up to $5,000,000 for assisting in the relocation of the antennas. The remaining research funds should be allocated by on-site officials to programs which offer the greatest potential return. The conferees expect the officials to consider the following programs for funding: MATRIX, NEAT, and HSN.

ADVANCED POWER TECHNOLOGY

To improve technology transition and the incorporation of advanced power concepts into vehicles and facilities, the conferees direct the Secretary of the Air Force to prepare a plan for establishing an Advanced Power Technology office to support the program manager for support equipment, ground vehicles, and bare base. The plan should be provided to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees with the submission of the Department of Defense fiscal year 2004 budget request.

ENDURANCE UNMANNED AERIAL VEHICLES

The conferees agree to provide a total of $352,743,000 for the Air Force's endurance unmanned aerial vehicles program, including an additional $31,000,000 for the continued development and testing of the Global Hawk endurance UAV system and sensor requirements.

Global Hawk Defensive System: The conferees do not agree to the Budget request for an additional $30,000,000 for the development of a U-2 like defensive system for the Global Hawk UAV.

Global Hawk SIGINT Sensor Development: The conferees agree to transfer $59,000,000 requested for Global Hawk SIGINT sensor development, and the development efforts these funds were requested to support, into a new line entitled Global Hawk Advanced Payload Development and Support.

Global Hawk Advanced Payload Development and Support: The conferees agree to provide a total of $84,000,000 in this new line, of which $59,000,000 is a transfer from the SIGINT Sensor Development line, including the High Band Subsystem development effort, and $15,775,000 is a transfer from the Airborne Reconnaissance Systems Sensor Development line. It is the intent of the conferees that the Air Force work with the Navy and the Army to identify new and existing sensor technologies for a high altitude UAV, including a day/night hyperspectral sensor system developed by an Air Force laboratory, and use the funds appropriated to develop, test and demonstrate payload options to enhance Global Hawk UAV mission capabilities. The conferees directed the Air Force to submit by January 15, 2003, a plan for expenditure of these funds.

The conferees support the Air Force's Airborne Signals Intelligence Payload (ASIP) program, a common high altitude SIGINT sensor based on the ongoing HBSS program and a new low band effort based on existing technology. The ASIP program is the Office of Secretary of Defense approved program designed to replace the failed Joint SIGINT Avionics Family (JSAF) program. The fiscal year 2003 estimated cost for ASIP is $31,400,000, of which $17,900,000 shall be funded from Global Hawk SIGINT sensor development (Advanced Payload Development and Support) and $13,500,000 from funds provided in a separate line for U-2 SIGINT systems. The conferees direct the Navy to evaluate its requirements and participate in the ASIP effort as appropriate.

CHEMICAL AND BIOLOGICAL DEFENSE

The conferees agree to establish a "Chem-bio Defense Initiatives Fund" within the Department of Defense's Chemical and Biological Defense program, and provide an increase of $25,000,000 for this purpose. The Secretary of Defense is directed to allocate these funds among the program proposals listed below in a manner which yields the greatest gain in our chem-bio defensive posture. The program proposals to be considered are:

- The National Center for Biodefense;
- Chem-bio Threat Mitigation technologies;
- Global Pathogen Science Portal;
- Advanced Sensors for Chem-bio Agents;
- Rapid Sensitive Biowarfare Protection;
- Diagnostic Tool for Biowarfare;
- Ultra-High Field Instrumentation;
- Urban Security Initiative;
- Chemical Imaging Biothreat Detection;
- Biological Agent Sensor/Detection System;
- Chem-bio Air Filtration System;
- Food Safety and Security Sensors;
- Bioinformatics;
- Phylogenetic- and PCR-based Detector System
- Field Portable Nucleic Acid Bioterrorism Detection;
- LISA-Inspector Transportable Chem-bio Detection System;
- Distributed Chemical Agent Sensing and Transmission;
- Wide-Area Standoff Chem-bio Agent Detection System;
- Air Purification for Protection System;
- Rapid Antibody-based Countermeasures;
- Oral Anthrax Antibiotic;
- Plant Vaccine Development;
- Rapid Response Sensor Networking for Multiple Applications; and
- Chemical Biological Incident Response Force (CBIRF).

ANTHRAX VACCINE SUPPLY PREPAREDNESS

The conferees are concerned about the adequacy of the supply and production capacity for the only FDA-licensed anthrax vaccine currently available in the U.S. to protect our military and civilian defense personnel from the demonstrated and potential future threat of anthrax. The Secretary of Defense is directed to provide a report which assesses the immediate and short-term preparedness and potential future total biowarfare defense need for the FDA-licensed anthrax vaccine, the potential need for expanded production capacity to mitigate risks of an event which could result in a halt to current vaccine production. The Secretary shall submit this report to the congressional defense committees within 90 days after enactment of this Act.

CHRONIC MULTI-SYMPTOM ILLNESSES

The conferees have provided $5,200,000 to extend research on chronic multi-symptom illnesses with a special focus on the relationship between Gulf War Illnesses and other diseases, fibromyalgia, chronic fatigue syndrome, and multiple chemical sensitivity. Within this amount up to $2,000,000 may be made available for research in the Upper Great Plains Region.

MEDICAL FREE ELECTRON LASER

The conferees agree that the work the universities are doing in conjunction with the Department of Defense to develop the medical free electron laser is vital to address a wide variety of research problems that are important to military personnel and civilian populations. The conferees provide $12,000,000 to continue research within the Department of Defense for this program and expect that these funds, along with any associated out-year funding, be retained within the Department of Defense.

BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE

The conferees agree to provide a total of $7,387,856,000 for ballistic missile defense research and development and related procurement activities. This reflects a reduction of $14,400,000 from the President's request and transfers to other accounts totaling $28,700,000.

Last year the conferees provided guidance in the Statement of Managers accompanying the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2002 regarding special interest projects, budget justification material and reprogrammings. The conferees agree to sustain that guidance and, unless exceptions to the contrary are provided explicitly, expect the Department to continue abiding by this guidance in the future.

RADAR RESEARCH

The conferees agree to transfer $22,00,000 from the Missile Defense Agency's sea-based midcourse program to the Navy (PE 0604307N) only for the development of Solid State S-Band radar. In addition, the conferees agree that $10,000,000 in sea-based mid-course funds shall be made available for radar development, the exact technology to be decided by the agency after a careful consideration of relevant radar options.

SEA-BASED X-BAND RADAR

Subsequent to submission of the budget for fiscal year 2003, the Missile Defense Agency proposed acquisition of a sea-based X-band radar, in lieu of the land based concept previously funded by Congress. At this juncture, the conferees have little insight about the technical and cost feasibility of this initiative, or about the impact of this change on the schedule and test plan for the ground based mid-course segment. On that basis, the conferees direct that none of the funds provided for the ground based mid-course segment program may be obligated to acquire the proposed, foreign built sea-based platform until 30 days after the Director of the Missile Defense Agency provides a report to the congressional defense committees on the cost and schedule impact of this approach, including a comparison to the cost and capability of the previously proposed land based site and the technical criteria used to determine that a sea-based platform will provide effective test and operational performance for the missile defense system.

TECHNOLOGY TRANSITION PROGRAMS

The conferees agree to provide $25,430,000 for technology transition efforts, including the Challenge program, the Quick Reaction Special Projects program, and the Technology Transition Initiative. Of this amount, $12,800,000 shall be used only to fund the Challenge program. The remainder shall be allocate between the other listed programs, at the discretion of the Secretary of Defense. The Secretary is directed to provide to the congressional defense committees a report detailing his funding allocation decisions with the submission of the fiscal year 2004 Defense budget request.

HISTORICALLY BLACK COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES SCIENCE

The conferees direct the Department of Defense to evaluate the programmatic impact of combining funding and administration for the Historically Black Colleges and Universities Science program, the Hispanic Serving Institutions program, and American Indian Tribal Colleges program under a new program element.

The Department shall provide a report to the congressional defense committees on the results of this evaluation within 120 days of enactment of this legislation.

ADVANCED SEMICONDUCTOR DEVICES

The conferees recommend that the Department of defense conduct a study to examine the long-term DoD acquisition model for advanced semiconductor devices used in military and intelligence applications. This study should address whether a consolidated U.S. semiconductor foundry could offer the U.S. Government a solution to the impending advanced technology procurement challenge. The Department is encouraged to make this study a high priority so that a preliminary assessment can be available by December 2002.

JOINT ROBOTICS

Based on reports received from the Department of Defense and U.S. military field commanders, the conferees agree the Department should proceed expeditiously to test, produce, and field technologically mature robots and other unmanned vehicles for use in combat. As such, the conferees recommend a total increase of $24,000,000 for the Joint Robotics program. Further, the conferees strongly encourage the Department to retain oversight of this program under the Office of the Secretary of Defense, given the applicability of robots to numerous joint and combined combat missions.

STRATEGIC CAPABILITY MODERNIZATION

The conference agreement includes $20,000,000 to fund the Department of Defense Strategic Capability Modernization program. The Department shall give priority to upgrading command and control systems and related Strategic Command communication systems in the use of these funds.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS ENGINEERING

The conferees remain interested in the Department of Defense providing a greater focus on its information systems engineering (ISE) effort. This effort is important to enabling the engineering of large-scale information systems for transformation to network-centric operations. Thus, the conferees direct DARPA to continue its efforts to pursue and support ISE research. The conferees urge that the expertise of ICICX and others be used to assist in developing and implementing new management strategies, consistent with the recommendations of the President's Information Technology Advisory Committee.

HOMELAND SECURITY COMMAND AND CONTROL
ADVANCED CONCEPT TECHNOLOGY DEMONSTRATION

The conferees recommend $3,000,000 for the Homeland Security Command and Control Advanced Concept Technology Demonstration for upgrades to communication and display equipment, and subsequent demonstrations and spiral development at the C2 nodes in Louisiana.

DHP REPROGRAMMING PROCEDURES

The conferees share the concerns expressed in the report accompanying the House version of the Department of Defense Appropriations bill for fiscal year 2003 regarding the diversion of funds from DoD military medical treatment facilities (MTFs) to pay for contractor-provided medical care. To limit such transfers within the Defense Health Program operation and maintenance account, the conferees agree that the Department of Defense shall follow prior approval reprogramming procedures for transfers with a cumulative value in excess of $25,000,000 into the Private Sector Care activity group.

In addition, the conferees agree that the Department of Defense shall provide budget execution data for all of the Defense Health Program accounts. Such budget execution data shall be provided quarterly to the congressional defense committees through the DD-COMP(M) 1002.

PEER REVIEWED MEDICAL RESEARCH PROGRAM

The Senate recommended $50,000,000 for a Peer Reviewed Medical Research program. The conferees agree to provide $50,000,000 for this program, and recommend the following projects as candidates for study: acellular matrix research for military orthopedic trauma; alcoholism research; amyotrophic lateral sclerosis; and anti-diarrhea supplement; Army nutrition research; augmented care in the chain of stroke survival (AC-CESS); blood-related cancer research; bone-related disease research; cell response to anti-cancer agents; Mt. Sinai cancer research program; casualty care research center; chiropractic care; epilepsy; infectious disease tracking system; interstitial cystitis research; low vision research; medical digital assistance; miniature renal assist devices; natural toxin detection technology; neuroscience research; Paget's disease; personal intelligent medical assistant; Providence cancer center; respiratory research; smoking cessation; social work research; and Volume Angio CAT (VAC) research.

AUTHORIZATION FOR USE OF MILITARY FORCE AGAINST IRAQ RESOLUTION OF 2002

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, it is with pleasure I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from California (Mr. BECERRA), a member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. BECERRA. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

Mr. Speaker, any nation engaged in a program of building weapons of mass destruction presents a danger to international peace and stability. Any leader who flouts the rule of law is a menace to liberty and democracy.

In my mind, the President has made a strong case that Iraq must disarm, pursuant to the United Nations resolutions enacted following the close of the Persian Gulf War. But the President did not convince me that we should go to war and go it alone, nor has he made the case that we should change our longstanding policy and defy international law and commit to a first strike.

The threat posed by Iraq is a threat which confronts the entire world, not just America. This resolution before us gives the President authorization to send American troops into Iraq to strike unilaterally and, indeed, to strike first. Congress has never before granted this extraordinary power to any previous President. We can address the threat posed by Saddam Hussein without expanding Presidential authority beyond constitutional standards.

A declaration of war is the ultimate act of humankind. It presumes to endow the declarant with the right to kill. In many instances, it amounts to a sentence of death, not just for the guilty but for the innocent as well, whether civilian or soldier. In measurable respects, that is why the Framers of our Constitution wisely assigned the power to commit America to war not to the President but to the people's democratic representatives in Congress.

The President should approach Congress and ask for a declaration of war when and only when he determines that war is unavoidable. The resolution before us leaves the question of war open-ended by both expressing support for diplomacy and authorizing the President to use force when he feels it is the correct course of action. Yet, in his own words, President Bush stated that "war is not unavoidable." So why, then, is he insisting on being given now, today, the power to go to war?

We are the lone superpower economically and militarily in the world. Our words have meaning, our actions have consequences beyond what we can see.

The implications of a unilateral first strike authorization for war are chilling. A unilateral attack could lead the world into another dangerous era of polarization and create worldwide instability. It would also set a dangerous precedent that could have a devastating impact on international norms.

Consider India and Pakistan, Armenia and Azerbaijan, Russia and Chechnya, Cyprus, Taiwan, Colombia, Northern Ireland, Central Africa. How might the people or the government in any of these countries which are engaged in or at the brink of hostilities interpret this resolution today? Why should not other countries adopt the President's unilateral and first strike policy to address conflicts or threats themselves? Would not a unilateral attack galvanize other potential enemies around the globe to strike at the United States and our interests?

In our efforts to focus on what the President described as a grave and gathering danger thousands of miles away in Iraq, let us not lose sight of the dangers which are grave and present, not gathering but present, here at home: the al Qaeda plots targeting our airports, our water treatment facilities, our nuclear power plants, our agricultural crops.

Just this Tuesday, CIA director George Tenet told Congress that Saddam Hussein, if provoked by fears that an attack by the United States was imminent, might help Islamic extremists launch an attack on the United States with weapons of mass destruction. We must consider how our actions may impact on the safety of the American people. The answer may not be always what we expect.

We must also ask, will the death and destruction it takes to eliminate a sovereign, albeit rogue government, lead to good will by the Iraqi people toward America and Americans?

Well, let us look at the record. During the Gulf War of 1999, we dropped some 250,000 bombs, many of them smart bombs, over a 6-week period on Iraqi forces. That is close to 6,000 bombs per day. We deployed over 500,000 troops. The war cost over $80 billion. None of that money was spent on reconstruction in Kuwait, and all of this is what it took simply to expel Iraq from tiny Kuwait.

And what is our, and for that matter the world's, recent record on supporting post-war reconstruction? Ask the people of Bosnia and of Kosovo, and now ask the Afghans.

Certainly there are situations where the United States must prepare or be prepared to act alone. I voted in September, 2001, to give the President that power to punish those who attacked this Nation on September 11. But the question is, are we at the point on the question of Iraq to go to war without international support?

Mr. Speaker, the President was clear in his speech on Monday. Iraq can lead us down a dangerous course, but I believe it is time for us to recognize that if we do this, we do this together, not alone.

Let us vote for the separate resolution, go the right way and send a good message, not just to Iraq but to the rest of the world.

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, in order to have the dialogue stay focused, I think we need to periodically look at the threat.

We have no doubt in this body. Speakers on both sides of the aisle have repeated the need to deal with someone who has used mustard gas and other agents against his own people. There is no question in this body about the war crimes committed by this dictator.

But when we talk about the threat not being imminent, I just want to read from an unclassified document something for us all to focus on as we again talk about do we or do we not empower the President to deal with all the cards in his hand, not missing the one of potential military action.

"Mustard gas, potential agents based on best estimates, 200 metric tons; sarin gas, 200 metric tons; VX, up to 200 metric tons; and anthrax, at least 8,500 liters. That is 2,245 gallons, but it could be as much as 10-fold that, 22,457 gallons of anthrax.

We all know in this body all too well what an almost infinitesimal amount in an envelope can do. I hope that we will think about this as we talk about whether or not to empower the President to have all the full force of our military at his disposal in negotiations.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. ESHOO), a member of the Committee on Energy and Commerce.
